This fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic risk and reward indicator mean?

- The fund is classified in category 5 because the value of the fund may be subject to high variations and because of this the risk of loss and the potential of gain may be high.
- The risk category for this fund was calculated using historical data. The risk category may not be a reliable indicator of the fund's future risk profile. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The seven-category scale is complex, for example 2 is not twice as risky as 1. The gap between 1 and 2 might not be the same as the gap between 5 and 6. A category 1 fund is not a risk-free investment - the risk of losing your money is small, but the chance of making gains is also limited.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic indicator?

- Liquidity risk: low liquidity might result in that it would be difficult or impossible to buy or sell an investment instrument in a timely manner and that the price could be lower or higher than expected.
- The fund may use derivatives. Due to their structure, the risk associated with these investment instruments may have a larger impact on the value of the fund, than buying the underlying investment instruments directly.
- Counterparty risk: the risk that a counterpart does not fulfill its obligations to the fund (e.g. not paying an agreed amount or not delivering securities as agreed).
- Currency risk: the fund may hold some of its investments in currencies other than the fund's reference currency. Thus the value of the fund may rise and fall due to currency movements.
- Operational risk: the risk of loss resulting from for example system breakdowns, human errors or from external events.
- Emerging market risk: the fund may be exposed to risk of countries and markets that have less developed political, economic and legal systems.
